EASTERN-WESTERN IN SCHOOL CLASH ON STADIUM GRID

Western High School football players will get a chance against Eastern today to see whether or not they can shake off the hoodoo that has been on their trail these many seasons. Western is counted upon to win today's game in the Central stadium, but Eastern has fooled the boys from across the creek so many times that the wearers of the Red and White are on the lookout for anything that might happen.

Eastern has improved mightily in the past two weeks under the tutelage of Jack Burnett, their new coach. The Easterners earned a 14-to-15 victory over Business recently, and are expected to make Western go the limit today.

Western should win by at least three touchdowns. The Georgetown lads are heavier and have made a better showing in the series than Eastern.

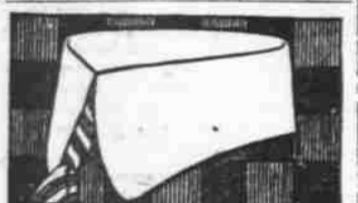

The lineup follows:
Eastern, Position, Western.
Wingfield, L. E., Hume
Waldorf, L. T., Spillie
Burns, L. G., Brewer
Nikirk, C. B., Myers
Bradley, R. G., Hastings
Brookwell, R. T., Fenwick
Fridinger, R. B., Groves
Newman, Q. B., Conlon
Thomas, L. H. B., Simpson
Welsh, R. H. B., Wight
Deween, F. B., Alexander
Jack-Gane will referee, William C. sack will umpire, and Edmund Gibson will act as linesman.

MAY CROSS CONTINENT.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 9.—The ambulance corps football eleven is considering an invitation to cross the continent for a game with the University of California, at Pasadena, January 1, and another with the Marines at San Francisco a week later. The trip will take three weeks.

WOULD PLAY OFFICERS.

The Great Lakes Naval Training School football eleven, which defeated Iowa University two weeks ago, wants to come to Washington and battle the Camp Meade officers' team. Through the Washington papers this challenge is issued today. The sailors want to play here on December 8.

Some Other Folks Are Always Beefing About Their Troubles

SCHOOL TEAMS OVERLOOK FORWARD PASS THIS YEAR

The possibilities of the forward pass in high school football this season appear to have been overlooked. In the five games played in the title series so far but twelve tries have been made at the forward pass and five of the passes have been successful.

Eastern used the play three times in the Business game and got away with two of them, one for a touchdown. Technical tried three against Western and got away with two of them, one for a touchdown.

In the Central Tech battle, the big game of the year, Tech tried three passes and Central one. The Tech team got away with one and Central, on its only attempt, got away with the pass, which was spotted by an off-side penalty.

Just why the schoolboys fail to use the forward pass is a mystery to the coaches, who are known to have been urging the use of this game during the entire season.

Several teams were successful last season in heaving the ball and made many consistently good gains with it. But the title series thus far has developed an old-fashioned straight football attack, a relic of football five and ten years ago.

All of the high school teams are well equipped with forward pass plays, which have been successfully tried out in practice and in practice games. Why they are not used in the title games is a problem.

It has been discovered that the failure of the high school lads on all teams save those of Central to negotiate goals after touchdowns have been scored is due to the fact that they have little or no opportunity to practice.

Central is equipped with its own field, which is thoroughly modern, while the other schools are forced to practice on lots near the school or at great distances as the case may be. Tech is required to go from school to the Monument Grounds, while Business, Western, and Eastern have to go far away to get suitable places.

Eastern is to be provided for in its new school with a fine football field.

DARTMOUTH LOOKING FOR STIFF CLASH TOMORROW

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 9.—Dartmouth expects a stiff contest tomorrow against Pennsylvania. In only one department, punting, is the Big Green team likely to have an advantage over the Quakers. S. W. Holbrook has been averaging more than fifty yards in his punts for the past three weeks, and this may prove of assistance in Boston.

The Fenway Park clash should be close, as both teams use similar styles of attack and defense, and are about even in weight and experience. Captain McDonough, who will play quarterback, is expected to lean on S. W. Holbrook and Phillips, a placement kicker, as much as possible, as the rushing strength of the Dartmouth backfield is not great.

The squad leaves this afternoon for Boston. Tomorrow morning the student body will make the trip in a special train.

QUAKER SQUAD IS AWAY TO BATTLE DARTMOUTH

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Coach Bob Fowell and his Quakers left this morning for Boston, where tomorrow Dartmouth's unbeaten eleven is to be played at Fenway Park, the home of the Red Sox. The following men were in the party, in addition to the coaches: Miller, Berry, Light, Quigley, Bell, Thomas, Straus, Maynard, Cleary, Wray, Wolfe, Kammerer, Krause, O'Gorman, Rosenau, Jerauld, Weil, Moche, Dixon, Van Ginkel, Heavener, Dieter, Walsh, Cook and Cressel.

Bunny Lerch is still too weak to play and so was left at home. This gives Penn but one quarterback, Bert Bell. If he is injured Hobey Light will have to replace him. Bell's injured shoulder makes him an uncertain quantity.

This afternoon a "students' special" leaves for Boston. It will carry more than 200 undergraduates to cheer for the Red and Blue.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES ATTRACT MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Intersectional football will be the big attraction in the middle West tomorrow.

Michigan will meet Cornell at Ann Arbor, with everything in favor of the former. The Wolverines are rated as the strongest in years, while Cornell is said to have gone back.

The only Western conference championship tilt will be the Wisconsin-Ohio State game at Madison.

The Michigan Aggies percentage of wins this year is exactly .000, but they are expected to give Northwestern a good battle at Evanston.

The Oregon Aggies and Washington State will provide the big attraction in the far West, while Baylor and the Texas Aggies will be, in the limelight in the South.

PROMISE TROUBLE FOR MAGNATES AT COMING SESSIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A fight to the last line of defense is to be made by the American Association and International League club owners who have been left out in plans looking for the organization of a new league.

Four magnates from each circuit who plan to cut away and form a new circuit will have their hands full when they attempt their coup at Louisville next week.

President Thomas J. Hickey, of the association, has already filed a protest with the national commission, and club owners in that circuit have taken steps to carry the battle into the courts of necessity.

A fight "till hell freezes over" will be made, according to the words of Owner Timme, of the Milwaukee club.

J. A. Gammons, president of the Providence club, said today: "I am surprised to hear of the talk of dropping Providence from the International League. I will fight any such action to the limit."

See Nothing Good.
Al Timme, president of the Milwaukee American Association club, said: "I have seen nothing in the proposed re-alignment of American Association clubs that looks good to me. I will accept nothing that will not better our club. If anything turns up and they attempt to turn us out in the cold, I'll go to the court and fight until hell freezes over."

Sam E. Lichtenstein, president of the Montreal club, believes everything may come out all right. He took the attitude that baseball law will take care of the cities. He declared it was not reasonable to say that clubs operating under the national agreement could be summarily dropped.

"Certainly it cannot be done without compensation and Montreal will look after its own interests," he said.

Chapin Says Little.
"Sometimes it is the fellow down in the list like the Rochester club who makes a home run, after the men at the top have fouled out," said President Chapin, of the Rochester club. "I haven't given it any thought or consideration and haven't anything further to say at this time."

George Muehlbach, president of the Kansas City club, only recently came into his franchise. He expects strong opposition to develop to the plan at the Louisville meeting.

"If the scheme is carried out, he said, it will be a big blow to the American Association."

Owner Smith, of the Richmond International club, declined to comment. Owners of the Minneapolis and St. Paul clubs did not make any statements.

HOPE TO REVIVE GAME.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Another fight will be made for boxing in the New York legislature this winter. Assemblyman Martin G. McQue, formerly a featherweight boxer, is now at work framing a bill, he said today, and will present it at the next session, which convenes January 1. He declined to discuss his objects, but declared a majority of both houses are in favor of boxing.

MICHIGAN UNDERGRADS WOULD PLAY OFFICERS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 9.—University of Michigan students, keenly disappointed because their football eleven cannot play Chicago this year, today began a movement to urge the university authorities to schedule a game with the crack Camp Custer eleven. It has been proposed that the game be played here, and that the receipts be turned over to some military charity.

The Cornell contest tomorrow is the last home game on Michigan's schedule. As the Camp Custer eleven at Battle Creek includes several college stars of national fame, it is believed that the game would be a great drawing card.

It is known here that the Camp Custer team is anxious to play Michigan. Four former Georgetown stars are playing with the Camp Custer eleven—Harry Costello, quarterback; Moriarity and Ward, tackles; and Kerwin, guard.
